Bathon under investigation for contribution methods

By Paul Mackie
Staff writer

A special prosecutor has been appointed to help the Illinois State Police investigate Madison County Treasurer Fred Bathon, authorities said Wednesday.

The embattled Bathon is accused of accepting "lugs," or mandatory political contributions, from his employees during his 10 years in the county auditor's office.

Madison County State's

Official accused of accepting mandatory funding from employees

Attorney William Haine sent an order to the State's Attorney Appellate Prosecutor's Office to appoint Ed Parkinson as special prosecutor for the case, said State Police spokesman Mark McDonald.

"I was assigned to the case Monday," Parkinson said. "I'm just now reviewing reports. There's an ongoing investigation."

Haine was on vacation Wednesday and couldn't be reached for comment.

"Our office is not commenting on Mr. Bathon," said First Assistant State's Attorney Susan Jensen.

McDonald said State Police investigators are having discussions with Special Prosecutor Parkinson and providing him with additional information. He said Parkinson will determine whether more county employees need to be interviewed.

"It really depends on what the special prosecutor requires," McDonald said. "He will determine whether he has enough evidence to prosecute or if he needs to go back for more interviews."

McDonald said Parkinson likely wouldn't say much for fear of damaging his case. Bathon's chief deputy in the treasurer's office, Rich Hampton, said he had heard that State Police have interviewed county employees in recent days.

Cathy Edwards, a secretary who keeps records in Bathon's office, was interviewed late last week by police and was granted immunity from prosecution. But she said she was instructed not to discuss the case with anyone, "not even my husband."

Bathon's attorney, John Rekowski of Collinsville, said he has spoken with several of his client's employees, including Edwards. He said Bathon is innocent and has nothing to worry about.

"I know who (the police) have talked to. Cathy Edwards did not turn state's evidence. I have spoken with her, and I know she has not supplied evidence," Rekowski said.

"Once she was given immunity from prosecution, she spoke (to police) and gave them nothing. We have made every employee in the office available to them," he said.

Rekowski said Edwards' request for immunity isn't a sign that she has evidence against Bathon but is "good lawyering," and that anyone questioned by police should request immunity.

Also, Rekowski said "spe-

Drug hot line proving successful

Messages from system has already lead to multiple arrests

By Steve Whitworth

Law enforcement officials already have started to reap the benefits of a new 24-hour hot line that allows members of the public to call in tips about suspected drug activity.

The Metropolitan Enforcement Group of Southwestern Illinois started the hot line three weeks ago so residents of St. Clair, Madison and Monroe counties would have one telephone number to report apparent drug dealing or manufacturing.

The hot line number is 346-3406. It connects callers to an answering machine that operates 24 hours a day, seven days a week.

Holbrook looks to bring back state-funded lunches

Program cut because of location change

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

State Rep. Tom Holbrook, D-Bellefonte, is working with the Granite City School District to procure state funding to provide free lunches for low-income children this summer.

"(Holbrook) is an effective, tenacious legislator who would like to see the children receive the meals. I know he will work diligently," said Granite City School Superintendent Steve Balen.

According to a federal regulation, districts are eligible for state funding only if the summer lunch programs are set up in a location where at least half of the children receive free or reduced-priced meals during the school year. The state denied the district the funds this year because its program was moved to Granite City High School, where less than a quarter of the students were eligible. Holbrook is seeking a waiver or, if necessary, trying to find another means by which the district would receive funding. The state would like to see the program moved to either Prather, Lake or Marshall, but Balen said those elementary schools would not be practical.

"We are trying to do what makes sense and reaches the

FROM LAST WEEK

WINSTON CUP SERIES

Everyone else had to pit, but not Bobby Labonte, and when the green flag waved for the final 105 laps, the result was Labonte's first victory of the season. Jeff Gordon was the only other car on the lead lap as he, third-place finisher Mark Martin, fourth-place Tony Stewart and all the other leaders had to pit in the waning laps. For the second week in a row, both Joe Gibbs-owned Pontiacs, Labonte and Stewart, finished in the top four.

BUSCH GRAND NATIONAL

Dale Earnhardt Jr. won for the first time this year as well, defending his title in the MBNA Platinum 200 at Dover Downs. Earnhardt, the 1998 series champion, took a 34-point lead over Matt Kenseth.

CRAFTSMAN TRUCK SERIES

Jack Sprague, the 1997 Supertrucks champ, won the night-time event at Bristol Motor Speedway. It was Chevy driver Sprague's second victory in a row. Sprague was never threatened in the closing laps, finishing nearly 4 1/2 seconds in front of Dodge driver Stacy Compton.

FEUD OF THE WEEK

Kenny Wallace vs. Jeremy Mayfield

Wallace started fourth at Dover and was in the top 10 all day long until, to his way of thinking, Mayfield "lost it and hit me in the left side and put me in the wall." That's not the way Mayfield saw it.

NASCAR This Week's Monte Dutton gives his opinion: "Wallace is a pretty straight shooter and may well have thought Mayfield took him out, but the replay indicated that Wallace actually hit the wall before there was any contact with Mayfield."

FROM THE ARCHIVES

■ David Pearson won 14 poles at Charlotte Motor Speedway (now Lowe's) during his half-of-a-century career. From the fall of 1973 through the 1978 season, Pearson was the track's only pole winner, starting up front 11 races in a row. Pearson's career victory total of 105 is second only to Richard Petty's 200.

Eggleston named crew chief for Sterling Marlin

By Monte Dutton
 NASCAR This Week

DOVER, Del. — Scott Eggleston was named crew chief for Team Sabco's No. 40 Coors Light Chevrolet and driver Sterling Marlin. He moved the 20-year-old son from where he was crew chief for Team Sabco's BellSouth Chevrolet and driver Joe Nemechek.

Team manager Tony Glover will serve as interim crew chief for Nemechek.

LOOKING FORWARD TO IT: Rusty Wallace likes the upcoming stretch of Winston Cup races between now and mid-July. "It's kind of an enjoyable stretch because I get to go to some race tracks that I haven't been to in a while," said Wallace. "There's something about when I go to Pocono. I like going to Pocono. I don't know what it is, but I like going up there. There are a couple favorite restaurants we hang out at, and the condos we stay at are pretty cool. I have fun up there. There are a lot of racetracks. I like because I have fun, and there are some that I just hate. I like the track, but I hate the surroundings."

THANKS JOE: Not the least of Tony Stewart's advantages in the race for Winston Cup rookie of the year is the owner who brought him to the Winston Cup Series. Said Stewart of Joe Gibbs: "I couldn't have asked for a better owner than Joe. In this business, to put a team on the track you're talking big dollars, and I'm not talking six digits, you're talking seven digits and sometimes eight. Sometimes you lose your focus, and people tend to become objects at a certain point. I've been with race teams where those people were treated like material or tools instead of people. One thing about Joe Gibbs, everyone is treated as an equal. He's there, willing to listen and willing to help you any way he can. Everybody's so worried about the business side, they forget it's people who make it happen. He really takes care of his people. He makes you feel like you're special."

POTENTIAL DARLINGTON MILLIONAIRES: The top five finishers in the Coca-Cola 600 will be eligible for the No. 1 million bonus in the Southern 500 Sept. 5 at Darlington. For the record, they are Jeff Burton, Bobby Labonte, Mark Martin, Tony Stewart and Dale Jarrett.

PROFILE

Ken Schrader

Ken Schrader, left, talks with Jimmy Spencer in the garage.

By Monte Dutton
 NASCAR This Week

One of America's more versatile drivers is a creditable 13th in the Winston Cup point standings, but Ken Schrader still longs for his first victory since June 2, 1991, at Dover Downs. Schrader, a former sprint-car national champion, was Winston Cup rookie of the year in 1985, when he drove for Richmond, Va., car owner Junie Donlavey. He finished a career-best fourth in the point standings as recently as 1994. HOMETOWN: Born in St. Louis, Mo., raised in Fenton, Mo., lives in Concord, N.C. AGE: 44 WIFE: Ann CHILDREN: Dorothy Lynn (9), Sheldon Bradley (3) CAR: No. 33 Skoal Chevrolet Monte Carlo, owned by Andy Petree FIRSTS: Start (July 14, 1984, at Nashville), pole (March 27, 1987, at Darlington), win (July 31, 1988, at Talladega) CAREER STATISTICS: 437 starts, 23 poles, 4 wins, 64 top-five finishes, 167 top-10s, almost $13 million in career earnings. WHY DO YOU THINK THE MIDWEST HAS BECOME SUCH A POTENT PRODUCER OF WINSTON CUP DRIVERS? "There are a whole lot of series that give good preparation. In the USAC Silver Crown Series, which a bunch of us came from, the cars are pretty heavy. They're nothing like Cup but still pretty heavy and underlined. You have to muscle them around, and that's kind of like a Cup car. In the ASA (American Speed Association, a Midwest stock-car circuit), you learn the chassis knowledge you need. It's just made more people more aware of the people out there in those series." DO YOU HAVE ANY DESIRE TO PULL THE INDY-CHARLOTTE DOUBLE LIKE TONY STEWART AND JOHN ANDRETTI? "If I'm going to be pulling double duty, I have no desire to run either a CART or an IRL car. I like my old stock cars. I have no desire to be involved with anything but a stock car or maybe a truck." HOW MUCH DOES IT BOTHER YOU NOT TO HAVE WON RECENTLY? "It's tough when you're not winning every week. Everyone in this sport is doing it because they want to win races. You just have to do the best you can to win races. You're working in the direction of winning races. We'd like to move up to the top five (in races), instead of the top 10, and we need to get in the top 10 in points and work toward the top five."

Letters From Our Readers

Dear NASCAR This Week, Could you explain how the money (prize) for each race is distributed by positions, 1 to 43? There (have) been quite a few times where a driver who finishes closer to last still gets more prize money than a driver who finishes in a better position.

Paul Green
 Dubuque, Iowa

NASCAR has bonus plans, the most prominent being the Winners' Circle, which rewards the most successful teams and the ones which successfully qualify for all the races. When a team is on such a plan or plans, its prize money is enhanced at every race. This accounts for the seeming discrepancies.

Dear NASCAR This Week, In 1998, NASCAR and Goodyear developed a rain tire (and) also had the owners install (windshield wipers). So why haven't they finished any races in the rain?

James E. Dougherty
 Jacksonville, N.C.

The tire you mention was developed ONLY for road courses. No practical means of racing on ovals with rain tires has been developed.

Dear NASCAR This Week,

How do I go about getting tickets for the next Daytona 500 race? Any information on the race would be helpful.

CREW OF THE WEEK

■ Sometimes calculating fuel mileage on a Winston Cup stock car is a risky proposition. Crew chief Jimmy Makar figured that his driver, Bobby Labonte, could go 106 laps around Dover Downs International Speedway on one tank of fuel, so Labonte topped off his fuel tank with precisely that number of laps to go in the MBNA Platinum 400. No one else could or would make such a decisive decision, and as a result, Labonte won the race by the largest margin, 22.071 seconds, of the season to date.

most hungry children, which would be those near the high school," Balen said.

Brad Eavenson, director of building services for the district, said that the high school appeared to be the appropriate choice not only because of its location near the park, but because it is centrally located and has air conditioning.

"It seemed like the right school, but evidently the state thought differently," Eavenson said.

The district received about $14,000 last year to serve about 6,313 meals out of Marshall. The program has been in existence for three years.

Chain of Rocks Bridge has gala reopening people walked, biked or skated out to the grand reopening of the bridge, held in conjunction with the St. Louis Earth Day Festival Saturday and Sunday.

The opening signaled the end of the first phase of the $4 million renovation of the world's longest pedestrian/bicycle bridge, according to Trailnet Inc., a non-profit land trust organization renovating the bridge, which is leased from the city of Madison.

The bridge is expected to be the centerpiece of a much larger system of integrated trails on both sides of the river.

Festivities at the bridge began with parades from both Illinois and Missouri. Participants were winners of a contest to come up with the most creative way to cross the bridge, or the best story about the bridge.

The bridge's official opening got under way later than expected because workers had to repair damage to tents caused by Friday's thunderstorms.

"It was a little panicky earlier this morning," Trailnet Executive Director Ted Curtis said before the ceremony. "We had a heck of a storm last night and it blew a bunch of tents down, but we've recovered."

"The tent company came out early and got things going. People are unloading like crazy and setting up," he added.

Friday's storm also disrupted a fund-raiser Trailnet was having on the bridge, but the weekend weather was just what they wanted.

"It looks like no rain and a nice breeze," Curtis said. "It's a little warm, but it always feels about 10 degrees cooler out here (in the middle of the bridge)."

During the ribbon-cutting ceremony, there was little room to move about in the middle of the bridge. Mal Juergens of Troy wanted to ride across the bridge, but was having trouble getting through.

"It's a little hard to ride a bicycle," he said. Juergens said he planned to be back on another weekend.

As part of Earth Day festivities, businesses and groups ranging from siding companies to animal rights activists set up booths on the bridge.

Gene Peters of Edwardsville also was looking forward to coming back when it is less crowded.

"I'm not much into a shopping mall across the bridge, so I'll be glad when all the tables are gone and you can ride across the bridge," he said. "They have to have their promotions, but I'm looking forward to a time when you can just ride across here as part of the trail and enjoy the river."

"I'm awfully interested in Route 66 and the bike trails," he said. "I think the bridge is wonderful. I lived here the year the interstate opened and this bridge closed. I used to drive across this bridge in my early days here. I had a brand-new Mustang convertible. I used to drive across this road and didn't know it was part of Route 66."

"I left for 15 years and came back," he said. "Now I live here and wanted to be part of the opening."

The bridge will be open from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on weekends through September.

State Rep. Tom Holbrook, D-Bellefonte, was out on the bridge Saturday for the opening.

"I've been a strong supporter of the bike trails and walking trails throughout the Metro East," he said. "This is one of the major links."

Area drug hot line is proving successful

"We needed to develop a system where if people wanted to call in information about a suspected drug house or about drug dealing, we would have some mechanism that they could call and leave information anonymously," said Lt. Mark Bramlett of the Illinois State Police District 11, which has its headquarters in Collinsville. Bramlett is the director of MEGSI.

Bramlett said callers may remain anonymous, but those who don't mind leaving their names can ask for an agent to call them back so they can provide further details.

Since the hot line went into service, MEGSI has received an average of about three or four calls per day, Bramlett said. He said he expected the hot line to generate even more tips as the public becomes more aware of its existence.

"We're working on a couple of methods to get the number out to the public more," Bramlett said. He mentioned the possibilities of using billboards or public service messages on television to advertise the number.

MEGSI officials have addressed meetings of tenants who live in public housing in East St. Louis to inform them about the hot line, and they hope to include their message with community service bulletins and free mailings sent out by hospitals and other organizations.

Some of the tips already have led to arrests, Bramlett said.

He said callers might report suspicious activities in their neighborhoods, such as when numerous cars stop outside a residence on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, with the occupants going inside and staying only a few minutes before driving away.

"We may go out and see if they are getting that amount of traffic through there, and if there is a reason for it," Bramlett said. MEGSI agents will check out every tip.

"We might do computer or background checks to see if a person or the location they talk about has ever been involved in drug activity before," Bramlett said.

The MEGSI director said he is aware that callers might make false reports in order to obtain revenge against someone.

"All of us in law enforcement know that sometimes people will give police information out of motivation for other than the best reasons," he said. "We don't take action based solely on a tip. We look into everything, and if there appears to be some legitimacy to it, we pursue it."

"Sometimes, some of our best cases are made by a jilted girlfriend or a mad wife."

MEGSI borrows officers from 14 area law enforcement agencies to investigate drug and gang activity in the Metro East.

appointment, claiming that Haine has simply brought in outside help to make an independent decision.

The "lug" accusation originated in December, when former County Board member H. Jack Franden of Alhambra was appointed to Bathon's former position as auditor.

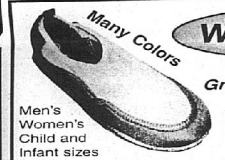

Rokowski said he has investigated Franden's lug allegation and claimed it was a reference to nothing more than an office fund for items such as "flowers, weddings and personal things not chargeable to taxpayers."

"The State Police even admitted to me that they have one of these (funds)," he said. "Fred received no benefits other than running a smooth office."

Rokowski also mentioned the County Board's censure of Bathon for inappropriate furniture transfer when he moved from the auditor's office to the treasurer's office in December, adding that the board may have thought the moves were "in bad taste," but they weren't illegal.

"This is a political fight," Rokowski said.

West Granite mobile home park getting brand-new look

Michigan investors making needed repairs

By Michael Heil
Staff writer

Park Towne Mobile Homes has a fresh look, courtesy of new management.

GRANITE CITY

A group of Michigan investors bought the homes five months ago, and since then, streets have been repaved and new mailboxes and trash containers have been purchased.

The new owners of the development along Leyden and West 22nd Street hope to make the homes more comfortable and cleaner for the tenants.

"They wanted to give it a new look and make it live here for the people who live here at an affordable cost," said Pat Foote, manager of Park Towne Mobile Homes.

Tenants also have been eager to make Park Towne more attractive. They have planted flowers and painted their decks and homes and they gather to police the area.

Thirteen-year resident Kathy Monroe said people who drive by will be surprised to see the new look.

"It has a different appearance now, a much-improved appearance," Monroe said.

"Management takes pride in its property and so do the tenants. It's a nice place to live."

Kathy's sister, Pam Monroe, added, "I feel secure living here. I think it's wonderful that the tenants did what they did."

Rosemary Jones has been a tenant for 18 years. She said she spruced up her property after she saw her neighbors do the same.

"I never gave much thought to my place until others by me started to do a whole bunch of things," Jones said. "I felt like I had no choice but to do the same thing. I'm glad I did. I'm proud of my place now."

Tenants no longer attend the homes, Foote said, but instead purchase them on contract for deed. After making a down payment, residents can move into a unit that has been rehabbed and inspected by the city, she said.

"They are taking better care of the residences because they own them."

THE LAW AND YOU

By RICK REED

Attorney At Law

Many people assume if a physician or hospital commits malpractice that this necessarily means that the injured party has a medical malpractice claim worth pursuing. Such is not the case. The victim will have to demonstrate that the malpractice was the "proximate cause" of the injury and that the injury was of sufficient magnitude to make the case worth pursuing. Two recent examples will illustrate the problems with such cases.

In one recent case, a middle-aged man went to a local hospital experiencing chest pains. The emergency room physician ran no test and told the patient that he had arthritis in the chest. After he was released, the patient's condition worsened, and eight hours later he wound up back in the same emergency room. It was ultimately determined that the patient was having a heart attack. This is a case where there was an obvious failure to diagnose, but no doctor was ever willing to state that the eight hour delay in diagnosing the heart attack resulted in more damage to the heart than would have otherwise been sustained.

In another recent case, an elderly woman went to a local physician complaining of a chronic problem with her throat. The physician treated the problem as if it were a throat infection, and several rounds of antibiotics were prescribed. Eventually the victim began coughing up blood, and the physician still prescribed antibiotics. Several months later, an ear nose and throat specialist diagnosed the problem as cancer. The patient eventually died. Where as there was once again a failure to diagnose. When the case was evaluated by a physician at a major St. Louis hospital, it was his opinion that the patient would have died any way even if early diagnosis had been made. He based his opinion on the type of cancer involved.

The malpractice victim will need to show that the physician or hospital's negligence was that which produced the injury (the proximate cause of the injury). Furthermore, because of the time and expense involved in bringing such a claim, many attorneys specializing in this type of case will not bring such an action unless the resulting damages are several hundred thousand dollars. It is obvious from these examples that a person can be the victim of medical malpractice and still not have a claim worth pursuing.

Lutz signs with Cincinnati, heads to Florida

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

It's official: Ken Lutz is a member of the Cincinnati Reds organization.

BASEBALL

One week after Lutz was drafted by the Reds in the fourth round of the 1999 First-Year Players Draft, Lutz signed a contract earlier this week with the Major League franchise.

Lutz met with Dave Jennings, the Reds scouting supervisor, Tuesday evening at his parents' home and signed the contract. Complete terms of the deal were not disclosed but Collinsville grad likely will play for Billings, Mont.

Lutz did say the Reds will pay for eight semesters of his college education.

"I think it is already starting to sink in. It feels good," Lutz said. "I've worked my whole life for this and it is a great feeling. I hope the feeling never goes away."

"I guess now the thrill is over and it's time to hit the road and play."

Lutz is ready to get started. He signed his contract late Tuesday evening and was going to start packing immediately. He was scheduled to leave 6 a.m. today for Sarasota, Fla., where he will work with the player development staff.

He will stay in Sarasota for a week to 10 days before reporting to Billings, Mont., the Reds Rookie league team in the Pioneer League.

Lutz expects to start pitching as soon as he gets to Billings.

"None of the top four pitchers (drafted) are down there (in Florida) yet," Lutz said. "I'll be the first. I will get to start a lot."

Donna Lutz, Ken's mother, joked about the grocery bill at the house taking a drastic cut with Ken leaving.

"I feel for them," Donna Lutz said. "He already asked them about food (budget). Hopefully, he will work through the ranks quickly."

Donna Lutz said the family is excited about Kenny's opportunity.

"Within a month, half of his family will be up there," Donna Lutz said. "He's got three older sisters who will want to see him play and me too. We're excited for him. We're already planning a vacation up there later this month."

Ken Lutz regretted not being able to call his friends and family after the signing and before his departure.

"Because I lost my telephone book," Lutz said. "I would like to tell all my friends and family. I apologize for not calling but I will see them when I get back."

Tri-City tries to build on last season

Young players got their chances to play last season

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

The Tri-City American Legion senior team is coming off a so-so season in 1998 that could help the program have a better season this summer.

LEGION BASEBALL

Last year's mediocrity gave Tri-City a chance to give its young players some time on the diamond.

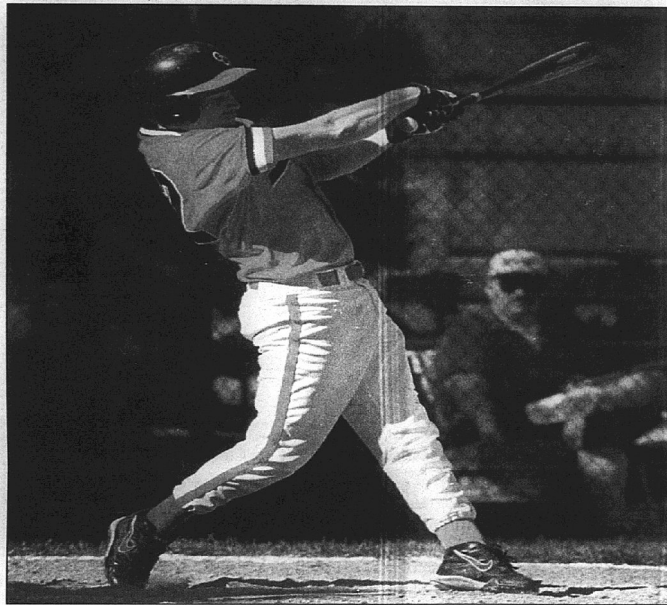

"I'd say we had a good season, not a great season," said Tri-City manager Chad Lignoul, who moves up from his position of assistant coach last year. "We finished third in our division. In this league, you can have college kids sometimes who are young enough to come back, so we had Mike Alvers. He came out and he was pretty dominant pitching. But about halfway through the season he got injured, so we kind of struggled a little bit after that."

"But I think some of these younger kids who are seniors now got a chance to play and got some time. I'd say we had a positive year."

Tri-City has basically the same line-up as the Granite City High School team that finished this scholastic season 12-21.

The Legion team lost its first game 6-5 to Dupon on Saturday.

"I think this year more than anything, as far as position players go, it's probably the deepest teams that we have had, as far as the number of kids who can play," Lignoul said. "We have

Collinsville wins easily in opener

Volkmar drives in 10 runs

By Brian Bretsch
Staff writer

Justin Volkmar collected four RBI as the Collinsville Herr Travelers won their American Legion junior division opener 10-0 against Wood River on Monday night at Arthur Fletcher Field in Collinsville.

Volkmar drove in his first run in the bottom of the second on infield pop up. His pop was hit so high it crossed up the Wood River infielders and fell in for a hit.

Volkmar drove in a pair with a two-run home run to dead center in the fourth. His RBI single in the fifth inning scored Joe Stogner with the Travelers' 10th run to end the game.

The gift hit in the second inning was a sign for Volkmar that he was about to have a big day.

"I got lucky that they missed it, considering it hit three feet in front of the pitcher's mound," Volkmar said. "I think that one went higher than the one (home run) went far. I can't believe the amazing fly ball counted as an RBI."

Volkmar's home run, on a 2-0 pitch, stretched the lead to 9-0.

Justin Hefflin picked up the five-inning victory for Collinsville.

While Travelers coach Pat Dellamano was impressed with the performances of Hefflin

Raub contributed laughter to volleyball, soccer teams

Granite City senior heading to Missouri Baptist

By Rick Broome
Staff writer

Jamie Raub spent her senior year bringing laughter and a light touch to two potentially moribund situations.

PREP SPORTS

As a member of Granite City's reeling volleyball team and the suspension- and injury-riddled soccer team, Raub contributed to the two teams with more than just her play. With her in devilish pigtails, Raub never was far from mischief.

"I was like that more with volleyball than with soccer, because soccer seemed more serious," Raub said. "I just wanted everybody to laugh and have fun."

"She has been a very positive influence on the team," Granite City soccer coach Gene Baker said. "She has a great personality; she is very bright. I did support her in her effort to get a scholarship to Missouri Baptist, which she has secured. The coach came here to see her when she started and he was pleased. I just don't think you can miss having some success with Jamie in your program."

Raub, a member of the varsity soccer team all four years of high school, chose Missouri Baptist, an NAIA school, for the opportunity to continue competing.

"It was small and kind of close to my house," Raub said. "Plus, I thought I could play soccer there. I want to start and play a lot. I hope we can win some games and I can contribute to the team. Maybe we could go to nationals."

Raub will be going to college with Granite City volleyball and soccer teammate Leah Gamblin.

"I have two best friends and she is one of them," Gamblin said. "We are going to school together next year. They always say don't move in with your best friend, but we are going to see how it works out.

"I think she is a great person. She is a good friend, she's always there to listen and to help, whenever I need her to."

"Leah is my best friend," Raub said. "We're pretty close. We became friends playing volleyball as freshmen. It will be nice to have her there at college, too."

Raub was used in spot duty most of her senior season, scoring five goals. But that had more to do with the program she was in than any athletic deficiencies.

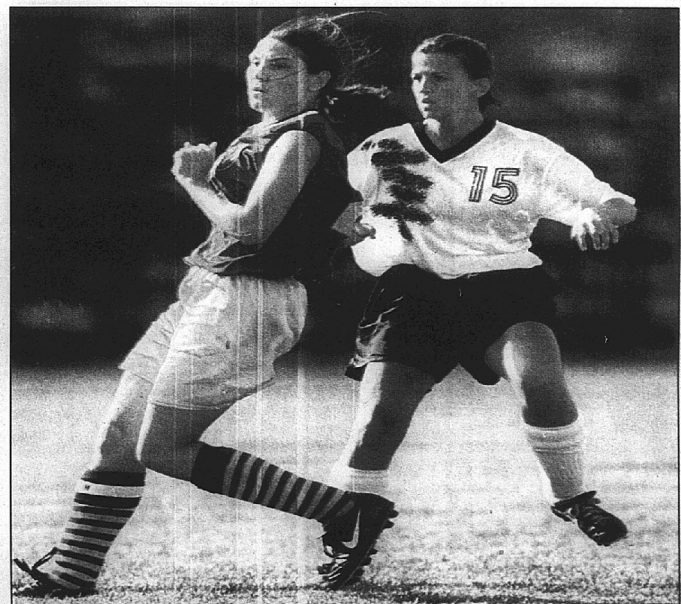

"Jamie is a skillful player who has her days when she scores," Baker said. "She is a threat to score, she is creative, she is good with the ball. I know that under a different game, she could be a really useful player. She is an offensive player and I tend to demand too much defensively in our particular system right now with the personnel that we have."

Otherwise, we would have been starting her much more often, even though she has had her starts."

"She is a very hard worker," Gamblin said.

"If Coach tells her what she is not doing, she will go out there and do it. That's how she is."

and Volkmar, he also knows they will spend much of the summer with the Collinsville Legion senior team.

"Hefflin pitched great," Travelers coach Pat Dellamano said. "He did a great job. He is a good kid. I hate to lose him but it is great for (Legion coach) Steve (Helmkamp) that they can use him. Periodically he will play with us every now and then but as far as pitching this was probably it."

While Hefflin was solid on the mound, the Travelers offense gave him plenty of offensive support.

Hefflin drove in the Travelers' first run with a sacrifice fly in the first and Matt Thomas drove in a run with a single.

The Travelers added four more runs in the second. Stogner drove in one with a fielder's choice before Volkmar's high pop made it 4-0. Hefflin helped his own cause again with a two-run triple, making it 6-0.

Ben Muzzey's two-out double in the third increased the lead to 7-0. Volkmar tacked on the last three RBI to close out the scoring and the game.

"We have a lot of good numbers," Dellamano said. "We had a lot of good kids on the bench that didn't play. Volkmar and Hefflin are super players but we have got some quality players that will fill in behind them. I really believe that."

Summer fun much more enjoyable with safety tips

The summer months of May through August are a great time for children to enjoy some free time outdoors.

Unfortunately, with more children engaging in outdoor activities, there comes an increased risk of children being seriously injured or even killed during the summertime. More unintentional childhood deaths and injuries occur between the summer months of May and August than any other time of the year.

"No one anticipates a tragedy will strike during this fun-filled time, but this is when children are pushing their abilities to the limits," said Chae Li Yong, health educator at Madison County Health Department. "There are many simple ways families can make their homes and communities safer for kids."

Madison County SAFE KIDS recommends the following guidelines to help ensure safe summer fun for the entire family.

Backyard Basics
Your home is most likely regarded as the safest place for your children to play. What many parents and caregivers forget is that injuries can happen anywhere, even in your own backyard, if certain safety precautions are neglected. Follow these guidelines to help your children safely enjoy playing in your backyard:

Always supervise children, even if they are "only in the backyard." Make sure all fences and gates are secure. Remove poisonous plants. Keep gardening tools out of children's reach.

Lock up barbecue grills and gasoline containers. Make sure children drink plenty of water. Make sure children use sunscreen of SPF 15 or greater, even when it is cloudy.

Know Your Neighborhood
There is always comfort in knowing your children are playing only a few blocks from home. However, this comfort can give you and your children a false sense of security when it comes to safety. The National SAFE KIDS Campaign and Madison County SAFE KIDS suggest the following tips:

Familiarize yourself with neighborhood play areas. Warn children about unacceptable play areas. Children under age 10 should never cross streets alone.

Safe and Smart Cycling
Bicycling is one of the most popular activities during the summer. Children often attempt risky stunts and exhibit careless behavior while bicycling. Each year, approximately 250 children ages 14 and under are killed and almost 400,000 are injured in bicycle-related incidents. SAFE KIDS recommends the following:

Insist your child wears an approved bicycle helmet. Teach children safe bicycle behaviors. Make sure child's bicycle works properly. Familiarize yourself with child's bicycling environment.

Safe Swimming
What better way to cool off from escalating summer temperatures than by taking a dip in the pool. Fun in the water can turn into disaster for a child without adult supervision.

Drowning takes the lives of more than 1,000 children ages 14 and under each year, including as the second leading cause of unintentional injury-related death to children in this age group.

BAC program seeks volunteers for seniors

If you love computers and love sharing your knowledge with others, Belleville Area College's Programs and Services for Older Persons wants you in its SeniorLink Program.

PSOP is looking for volunteers to teach Windows 95, Windows 98, MS Office, Quicken, Printshop or the Internet to senior citizens. Instructors provide seniors with basic skills needed to operate computers and an introduction to some software applications.

Volunteers donate two hours per week for six week sessions. Morning, afternoon and evening opportunities are available.

"We have a special need for individuals who have knowledge of the Internet due to the popularity of that class," said Doris Olah, SeniorLink computer lab assistant. "Seniors are anxious to learn about the information superhighway."

SeniorLink is a computer club for senior citizens. More than 20 classes a week, covering a variety of topics, are offered to senior citizens. The lab is open from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday.

PEOPLE

As part of the grand re-opening weekend for the Old Chain of Rocks Bridge, the annual St. Louis Earth Day Community Festival was moved to the site. More than 20,000 people came out to walk, bike or skate across the bridge, which is undergoing a $4 million renovation by Trainnet Inc. to be the longest pedestrian/bicycle trail in the world.

Clockwise from top left, Gene and Jennifer Peters of Edwardsville take in the view of the Mississippi River to the South of the bridge; Belly dancers Samira and Penny of Belly Dance Mirage entertain on the bridge; Gene Austin, 11, of Florissant, Mo., looks over a bull snake at a stand manned by members of the St. Louis Herpetological Society; Members of the Klassy Kickers lead the parade from the Missouri side of the bridge during opening ceremonies; Before the official opening of the bridge, trucks and vans carrying merchandise and supplies for the stands created traffic jams on the bridge.

Route 66 fest set Saturday 'Cruise' included

By Barbara M. Cope
Staff writer

This weekend will give everyone a chance to get their kicks without going far as Festival 66 rolls into town to celebrate the nostalgic heritage of the "mother road," Route 66.

The festival, which is in its third year, will give people a chance to cruise back to a simpler time with classic music, classic cars and activities for all ages, said Festival Committee Chairman Greg Schmidt.

One of the annual highlights, the car cruise, won't be headed for the coast, just across town. The trip will start at 6 p.m. Saturday at Edwardsville Middle School and go to the Steak 'n Shake, 2382 Troy Road.

"We're expecting to have 300 or 400 cars participate," Schmidt said. Most of them will be classic or souped-up cars, but a couple of minivans

SIUE features 'You Can't Take It With You'

Kaufman and Hart's "You Can't Take It With You" is the only comedic play to win a Pulitzer Prize and an Oscar.

It will be the first of two "Summer Showbiz '99" productions, part of the Summer Arts season at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. This year's theme is "Passport to Summer Fun." The first stop is New York City, the setting for "You Can't Take It With You."

The play opens at 7:30 p.m. Thursday in Room 1031 of the campus' Katherine Dunham Hall. There will be 7:30 performances Friday and Saturday and a 2 p.m. matinee Sunday.

The same schedule is repeated June 17-20. Tickets are $10 or $8 for students, faculty staff and those 65 and older.

"When you think of summer stock, three plays come to mind: Harvey, 10 Little Indians and You Can't Take It With You," said director Peter Cocuzza, an assistant professor of theater and dance at SIUE.

Written by Moss Hart and George F. Kaufman, the play is the most frequently performed in the country. It also calls for a large cast — 19.

"Lots of roles for students and the community," Cocuzza said. "It's a nice mix."

Summer Showbiz productions at SIUE are not only always family entertainment but they also are family oriented when it comes to casting. Cocuzza said there has always been a sense of the community family in the summer program and this year there's a strong presence from the university family as well. Three key members of the cast are SIUE faculty or staff.

The role of the grandfather, Martin, is played by Professor Ralph Donald of Edwardsville, chairman of the department of mass communications. Eric Barnett, director of the University Museum, plays Mr. DePinna and theater and dance instructor James Dorothy is cast as the husband of Penny.

Penny is played by Regina Hankins of Granite City.

Dorethy is the production's scene designer, too.

"We are very fortunate,"

Cocuzza said. "We have good, experienced people."

Dorethy has been busy creating late Victorian decor for the play, which is set in the 1930s. It gives the audience a look at life with the Vanderhof family where every day is a combination of Christmas, the Fourth of July and April Fool's Day.

The second stop in the series is Siam for the musical "The King and I." That show runs from July 8-11 and repeats July 15-18. Season tickets for both shows are $18 or $15 for students, faculty staff and those 65 and older. For more information, call the SIUE box office at 650-2774.

Sayles' 'Limbo' features some powerful acting Screen Gems remains a hallowed name in the history of Columbia Pictures. When the company was founded in the early 1920s, its comedy shorts appeared under the title Screen Gems. The name continued with the Three Stooges and other comedies into the 1940s.

Then in the early 1950s, when Columbia became the first major studio to produce entertainment expressly for television, the name was revived to present such classic series as "Father Knows Best," "The Donna Reed Show" and "Bewitched."

Last December, Columbia, now a part of Sony Corp., announced formation of a new feature subsidiary, bringing still another incarnation of the Screen Gems banner. The new unit's mission: To release films that somehow fit between the mainstream Columbia films and Sony Classics, which distributes foreign and domestic art-house pictures.

John Sayles was the filmmaker chosen to launch the new Screen Gems. For two decades he has combined careers of writing or doctoring major movies and directing his own highly personalized screenplays such as "Eight Men Out," "Passion Fish" and "Lone Star."

"Limbo" continues Sayles'

tradition of making films in remote locations with strong characters enduring inner turmoil. The setting is an Alaskan fishing port (actually Juneau).

Joe Gastineau (David Strathairn) is a stoic handyman haunted by guilt about a boat accident 25 years ago in which two friends drowned. Donna De Angelo (Mary Elizabeth Mastrantonio) has been a saloon singer in 36 states and Puerto Rico. She has always taken along her sullen teen-age daughter, Noelle (Vanessa Martinez), who resents her mother's promiscuous, gypsy life.

Much of the early film is devoted to interplay of local characters and the tentative liaison of Joe and Donna. The story switches gears when Joe's half-brother Bobby (Casey Siemaszko) appears on the scene, urging Joe to join him for a business trip on Bobby's boat. Joe reluctantly agrees, inviting Donna and her daughter to go along.

The voyage becomes a disaster. Bobby has been involved with murderous hoodlums who board the boat. Joe and the women swim to a deserted island where they struggle for existence and deal with their personal demons. This is the most absorbing part of the movie.

In the leisurely opening sequences, Sayles establishes a number of interesting inhabitants of the nation's largest state. He also touches on issues such as the decline of the fisheries and the gentrification of Alaska (a local booster expounds: "I see Alaska as one big theme always sneak in there."

Festival 66 ready to cruise into third year

Those minivans show that it's not all about what has been. Part of what makes the festival special is that it is for everyone, including bystanders, Schmidt said.

"Everybody's welcome," he said. "Something that makes it special is the way people line up to wave as the cars go by."

A show to spotlight local talent is planned for Saturday night. The winner will proceed to a state-level talent contest next January.

"The talent show is always a biggie," Schmidt said. "It's got a cash prize of $250. There's nothing like seeing a 14-year-old kid get up there and sing his heart out."

Other talent displayed will be of a professional caliber. Several bands are scheduled throughout the weekend including the Edwardsville Municipal Band and lots of Route 66-era music.

"We'll have an excellent '50s and '60s show band called the Facts O' Life," Schmidt said. "They've played all over the country and really put on a great show. They'll do costume changes and come out dressed up like Elvis and things like that."

On Sunday, the group that inspired the festival will arrive.

"We'll see the motorcade of drivers from Chicago start to arrive at City Park around 2:30 Sunday afternoon," Schmidt said. "We'll have special parking for them to show off their cars."

Every year, Schmidt said, the motorcade would leave from Chicago and drive down Route 66, stopping at various locations on the way.

"A few years ago, they picked us as a location city," Schmidt said. "We threw them a big party and they liked it. That was how we came to be a destination for the motorcade."

Now, every second year the motorcade leaves from Chicago, and on alternate years it leaves from Edwardsville.

The festival also will celebrate the fact that cars weren't the only mode of transportation to roll down Route 66. At 10 a.m. Saturday, bicyclists will ride out for either a 66-mile or a 25-mile jaunt. For those who don't want to go that far, the 10-mile family Bike Rumble will leave an hour later.

"The 66-mile Rumble goes out to Alhambra and around to the Chain of Rocks Bridge," Schmidt said. "It's a good trek. For little kids, 10 miles might be better so we also have a family bike ride. All routes start and end at City Park. It's always a big hit."

Schmidt said there also will be several other activities to occupy the youngsters. Among those planned are a Route 66 Scavenger hunt, a magic show by Brian Ballard and a yo-yo demonstration and contest.

Something Schmidt said was new at the festival this year may have Generation X festival-goers and their grandparents finding they really do have something in common.

"With swing music and dancing coming back into vogue, we're very excited to have a 17-piece swing band this year," Schmidt said. "They'll play big-band and swing music Saturday afternoon."

Schmidt said he is looking for volunteers to help with the many jobs at the festival.

"This festival comes off every year because of the people who volunteer," he said. "They'll come out for a couple of hours to facilitate the games or serve up the drinks and get a T-shirt to take home with them. It's a great time, but it takes a lot of people to make it happen."

Anyone wishing to help should call Christy Tinney at 656-5014 or the Edwardsville-Glen Carbon Chamber of Commerce, which is helping to organize the festival, at 656-7600. As always, the generous help of corporate sponsors is greatly appreciated, Schmidt said.

The festival will officially end Monday morning when the motorcade leaves to go back to Chicago. Before they leave, Schmidt said, everyone is invited to a 7 a.m. send-off breakfast at Edwardsville High School.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20)
 Your instincts are exceptionally good today and can be used to resolve a troubling matter that's been disturbing you. Follow your hunches and you'll come out the winner. Know where to look for romance and you'll find it.

CANCER (June 21-July 22)
 What produced good results for associates in the past can work equally well for you today. Use your insights of effectively adapting their strategies to your present needs.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22)
 Set the tone with initiative and determination, and allies will supplement your efforts with strong support. This will allow you to achieve two important objectives today.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)
 Consideration given to future plans at this time can later prove to be an advantage. You can strive to look ahead a bit without discounting your present concerns.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23)
 If you begin to sense material trends are shifting in your favor today, don't think you can slack off. Instead, dig in, because you'll still have to work hard to bring things into being.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22)
 Failing to protect your interests today could prove foolish, even though this could involve a difficult decision that might reveal negative aspects of someone with whom you're associated.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21)
 What gives you the greatest satisfaction today is overcoming challenging, complicated situations. Instead of dodging them, you'll welcome the confrontation.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

Poetry confab set

Share your poetry with River King editors Wayne Lanter and Donna Biffar during "Solstice," a poetry workshop to be held from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. June 26 in Belleville Area College's Belleville Campus Marsh Conference Room, 2500 Carlyle Ave.

The two published authors will lead discussions, and critique and evaluate the poetry of people attending the workshop. All themes are welcome, said Lanter, founder and editor of the River King Poetry Supplement, an international journal of contemporary English language poetry, writings about poetry and poets. The final activity of the workshop is a reading session during which all individuals can read two of their poems to the group.

Cost for the workshop is $30 for the public and $20 for BAC students. People who attend will receive free subscriptions to the poetry journal, coffee, doughnuts and lunch.

Call Lanter at 234-5082, or e-mail riverking@icss.net for more information.

Horoscope

19) In order to cope with today's developments, you may have to wear two hats. Depending on conditions, you'll need to get hard-nosed or become equally easy-going and friendly.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Check out a situation today others think of as being of little worth, because there could be a profit in it. After you score, associates will call you a financial whiz.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Others will appreciate it today that you are not one who makes idle promises. You will show them that you always come through on your word, even when conditions are difficult.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) It may not look like it at first, but as the day wears on, you'll begin to see several possibilities for material gains today. Much of this will be due to your diligent efforts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) If you accept people at face value today, you'll be able to thoroughly enjoy the company of others. If you start looking for flaws, you'll greatly dilute these associations.

JCC plans film fest next week

By Heather Cole
Staff writer

It may be a good idea to purchase tickets to the fourth annual Jewish Film Festival early, despite its moving to larger theaters this year.

The Jewish Community Center event runs June 13 through 17.

It will be at the Westport Cine, 910 Westport Plaza, through June 16, and in the Ida Pasternak Auditorium at the center, 2 Millstone Drive, on June 17.

Last year, several showings had to be added after many sold out.

The seating capacity this year has doubled to 400 seats, said Jan Meyer, event coordinator. In addition, this year's festival has more special guests than ever, she said.

Guests include Ray Silver, the producer of "A Fish in the Bathtub," showing at 7 p.m. June 13. Silver will speak after the movie.

Silver also produced the American-Jewish movies "Hester Street" and "Crossing Delancey," which will be shown Monday.

Gary Lucas, a well-known guitarist, will accompany "The Golem," at its 8 p.m. June 17 screening. The film is the story of a rabbi who tried to save the Jewish community in 16th century Prague by creating a giant man from clay.

Lisa Lewenz, who directed the new film "A Letter Without Words" will speak after its 8 p.m. June 16 showing.

"Lisa Lewenz put together a fascinating documentary," Meyer said. "She pieced together old film footage taken by her grandmother, learned German, hired German lip readers, tried to position herself where her grandmother stood with a camera, took new footage and recreated a whole past she knew nothing about."

A panel discussion after the film "Delta Jews," showing at 5:30 p.m. June 17, will feature several transplanted Southerners. "Delta Jews" is a documentary of the Jewish community in the Mississippi Delta before and after the

Strike up the band

By Barbara M. Cope
Staff writer

An Edwardsville tradition since the late 1800s, the Edwardsville Municipal Band will start its summer concerts in the park series today.

The band consists of 70 musicians from around the area with backgrounds in several different genres of music ranging from classical to musical theater or pop-influenced sounds.

Mary Ann Davis, the director of the band, said she tries to include music for all tastes. Each concert will feature a different lineup, an enormous job that has the band practicing for several hours to prepare for each concert.

In addition to the regular Thursday night performances, the band also will be featured during the upcoming Festival 66 on Sunday and many other events throughout the summer.

Film choices tell the tale of compatibility

By Kevin Carbery
Staff writer

Judging compatibility is a difficult task. Look at the divorce rates.

As a public service, I have come up with what I feel is an excellent way to decide whether you have linked up with the right person.

Both partners are to independently make a list of their 50 favorite movies, then compare notes.

If they do not share at least 10 films, they should shake hands and go their separate ways. This method could save a great deal of heartache down the road. And it's as scientific as any test you'll find in "Reader's Digest" or "Cosmopolitan."

To me, this is a matter of common sense. Someone whose fave flicks include "The Seventh Seal," "Citizen Kane" and "La Dolce Vita" probably should not get married to a person who lists "Porky's Revenge," "The Waterboy" and "Encino Man" as his or her top films.

I realize that men and women tend to gravitate to different genres. In general, women are more likely to have "Titanic" on their lists while men are more apt to name "The Magnificent Seven." That is why I give so much leeway. If the couple can not even match on a fifth of their favorite motion pictures, I fear for their ability to get along in other areas of their lives.

I mean, someone who gets excited over renting "My Dinner With Andre" has no business trying to share a life with a person whose favorite actor is Jean-Claude Van Damme. If one partner's top film is "Friday the 13th Part VIII: Jason Takes Manhattan" and the other's is "The Sound of Music," I foresee trouble in the relationship.

For this week's trivia quiz, I am going to give you famous lines out of some of my favorite movies. Your job is to name the films the lines are from.

1. "It's springtime for Hitler in Germany."

2. "Over? Did you say over? Nothing is over until we decide it is. Was it over when the Germans bombed Pearl Harbor?"

3. "Whose castle is this?"

4. "Serpentine!"

5. "You'll shoot your eye out."

6. "Idiot! You have broken my pointer!"

7. "Marry me and I'll never look at another horse."

8. "LaFong. Carl LaFong. Capital L, small A, capital F, small O, small N, small G."

9. "Why did it have to be snakes?"

10. "Any of you guys call me Francis, and I'll kill ya."

ANSWERS: 1. "The Producers," the best film Mel Brooks has ever made. 2. "National Lampoon's Animal House." Bluto says this during his big speech near the end of the picture. 3. "Monty Python and the Holy Grail." This is my favorite film of all time. I watch it at least once every year. 4. "The In-Laws," a hilarious motion picture from 1979 starring Peter Falk and Alan Arkin. 5. "A Christmas Story," which is a scream. It's about a little boy wanting Santa to bring him a Red Ryder BB gun. 6. "A Shot in the Dark." Inspector Clouseau says this after whacking his assistant with the pointer. 7. "A Day at the Races," from the Marx Brothers. It's one of their best. A scene with Groucho taking over the phone switchboard is an absolute riot. 8. "It's a Gift," one of the funniest films I have ever seen. The line is from an insurance salesman who bothers W.C. Fields while he is trying to sleep on his porch. 9. "Raiders of the Lost Ark." Indiana Jones, of course, hates snakes and says this when he finds asps at the site where the ark is buried. 10. "Stripes," a terrific Bill Murray film. Psycho says the line as part of several warnings he gives the guys in his platoon.

I will host the following upcoming trivia events: St. John the Baptist High School Trivia on Saturday, June 12, call 353-6007; St. Louis Community College at Meramec Alumni Association Trivia on Saturday, Oct. 2, call 984-7551.

Acting fine park"). But these factors are discarded as Sayles pursues the Swiss Family Robinson theme.

Sayles is billed as writer, director and editor of "Limbo," and it's the editing that proves troublesome. The quick cuts are often disturbing, and the eventless happenings at the harbor seem at odds with the desperate struggle for survival on the island.

Still, John Sayles continues as one of the few original creators practicing in the commercialized film world. He draws the utmost from his actors. Strathairn, appearing in his seventh Sayles film, is terrific; he deserves a swim in the mainstream. Mastrantonio captures the essence of a dauntless rolling stone.

Eminent cinematographer Haskell Wexler, five-time Academy Award nominee and double winner ("Who's Afraid of Virginia Woolf?" "Bound for Glory"), contributes greatly with his loving glimpses of the Alaskan vistas.

Handel's "Messiah," and Mozart's "Coronation Mass." On the musical theater side he has played the lead in "Oklahoma," "South Pacific" and "Man of La Mancha."

Local teen-agers Jonathon Prather, Danny Hobson, Tim Petty and Dillon Sybert — "Dionysus" — will be rocking the stage.

Tenor sax player Roland Clark may be Lebanon's best-known musician. A six-year stint in Europe had him backing such greats as Dinah Washington, Memphis Slim and Earl "Fatha" Hines while stateside his credits include W.C. Handy, Amos Milbourn, Sonny "Long Gone" Thompson, Louis Jordan, Boots Randolph, Count Basie and Buddy Rich. He will be bringing his current band, "The Sound Exchange," along for the day.
